Course description: principles of stable, radiogenic and cosmogenic isotope chemistry of natural waters; geochemical and hydrologic processes affecting isotopic compositions of surface waters, soil waters, and groundwaters; discussion of recent applications of isotopic tracers to hydrogeochemical problems. Homework problem sets, class field trip, article discussion, final project and exams required.